📋 Executive Summary

ZssBecker showcases how a single prompt can generate cinematic ad hooks without any filming or recording teams, arguing this approach could disrupt paid advertising, while noting the templates still need tweaking.

This honestlys break paid advertising.

Bits of each of these templates needs to be tweaked. It's simply a test run. (Ad1s a pretty good example tho)

The point : With 1 prompt, zero filming/recording teams can create cinematic shot ads on the fly perfect for ad hooks.
