What I Say When Someone Disrespects Me

Channel: Brandon Carter · Published: Oct 26, 2026 · Watch: https://www.youtube.com/shorts/1MVIEGlJ4Cg Source: full transcript

📋 Executive Summary

Brandon Carter shares a single, calm verbal technique for handling public disrespect — inviting the other person to rephrase — that de-escalates tension without mirroring hostility or causing a scene.

📑 Contents

- 🔥 The Common Mistake People Make
- 🧠 The Technique: Invite a Rephrase
- ✅ Why It Works

🔥 The Common Mistake People Make 0:00

- Most people mirror disrespect when they receive it
  - They react emotionally, matching the other person's tone or aggression
  - This causes the situation to escalate and get out of hand

🧠 The Technique: Invite a Rephrase 0:00

- Brandon's employee made a remark with a disrespectful tone
- Instead of reacting, Brandon followed three steps:
  - Took a brief pause
  - Stared the employee in the eye
  - Calmly said: > "I'd like to give you an opportunity to rephrase your previous statement in order to mitigate any confusion that may have occurred."

✅ Why It Works 0:23

- Responding calmly instead of escalating disrupts the other person's emotional state
  - The employee realized he may have been "out of pocket" (i.e., out of line)
  - He restated his point in a more respectful way
- No public humiliation was necessary — the conflict resolved without embarrassing anyone
- The calm response implicitly signals confidence and control, making the disrespectful party self-correct