📋 Executive Summary

Stop paralysing yourself choosing between agencies, info-products, SaaS, or e-commerce. People already making money simply took action and learned as they went. Launch something — anything — and figure out the rest on the way.

- 🚀 Just Launch Something

🤔 The Overthinking Trap 0:00

- A common mental loop: not knowing which path to take before earning the first €100k or millions
  - Options people endlessly weigh up: agency, info-products, SaaS, e-commerce
- The core truth: you can make money in any niche
  - Evidence: there are already people profiting in every single one of those models
  - The only real difference between them and you is that they took action and figured it out as they went

🚀 Just Launch Something 0:22

- The speaker's own path was not planned — he did not know he would end up in the info-business or in SaaS
  - He discovered both by doing, not by strategising upfront
- The recommended process:
  - Launch something
  - Maybe fail — that is fine
  - Launch something else
  - Over time you discover what you are good at, what you enjoy, what your strengths are, and where your advantages lie

> None of it matters if you don't just start taking action.

- The single takeaway: analysis without action produces nothing — momentum and self-knowledge only come after you begin
