

Do you want to never run out of video ideas again?

Channel: Brandon Carter · Published: Jul 31, 2026 · Watch: <https://www.youtube.com/shorts/hHg2-uJ4DHw> Source: full transcript

Executive Summary

A quick workflow using a Chrome extension and NotebookLM lets you generate unlimited video ideas by reverse-engineering content that has already proven to perform well on a competitor's or peer's YouTube channel.

Contents

-  The Three-Step Video Idea Workflow
-  Free Live Training Offer

The Three-Step Video Idea Workflow 0:04

- Install a Chrome extension that lets you copy all video URLs from any YouTube channel page
 - Visit your favorite YouTuber's YouTube page while the extension is active
 - Use the extension to bulk-copy every video URL from that channel
- Paste the collected URLs into NotebookLM (Google's AI research tool)
 - Tell NotebookLM to "give you 20 video ideas based off the sources"
 - It generates ideas grounded in videos that have already demonstrated strong performance
- Core logic: by basing new ideas on existing high-performing videos, you skip the guesswork
 - The ideas are validated by real audience engagement rather than invented from scratch

"You'll immediately get a ton of videos based off videos that have already been proven to perform well. Now you never have to worry about coming up with content ideas again."

Free Live Training Offer 0:26

- Brandon Carter is hosting a free live training "this weekend" (relative to Jul 31, 2026)
 - Topic: how to use AI to make an extra $300–$500 per day as an online trainer
 - Explicitly stated as 100% free with no sales pitch at the end
- To register: comment the word "online" on the video and he will send the registration link