A day in my life

Channel: Tim Luong · Published: Oct 30, 2026 · Watch: https://www.youtube.com/shorts/_B7kQHW7NdI Source: full transcript

📋 Executive Summary

Tim Luong, a billionaire entrepreneur in Miami, walks through a Saturday: pre-dawn gym and recovery rituals at a performance-optimised home, then socialising with friends before attending a Don Toliver concert featuring Justin Timberlake.

📑 Contents

- 🌅 Morning Routine & Home Setup
- 🍽️ Afternoon: Barber, Chef & Friends
- 🎵 Evening: Don Toliver Concert

🌅 Morning Routine & Home Setup 0:00

- Wakes up at around 4:30–5:00 AM and heads straight to the gym
  - Practises boxing as his primary workout
  - Follows the workout immediately with sauna and an ice bath
- His home is intentionally designed around performance optimisation
  - A treadmill is described as the centrepiece/essential item of the home setup
  - Owns a $10,000 espresso machine
    - Admits, with self-deprecating humour, that the espresso he makes with it "is terrible"
- Works on a Saturday by choice
  - Prefers weekend work because the atmosphere is quieter and no one interrupts him

🍽️ Afternoon: Barber, Chef & Friends 0:23

- A barber comes to the house for a fresh haircut
- A private chef arrives to prepare food at home
- Friends begin arriving and the group spends about an hour getting ready together at his place

🎵 Evening: Don Toliver Concert 0:23

- The group drives directly to a Don Toliver show
  - Tim describes the performance as "amazing"

    - Don Toliver hosted Justin Timberlake as a guest at the concert
- Someone named Juliana is noted to be dancing with an unidentified person in the crowd
- The night ends with everyone going out together after the show
- Tim closes by framing all of this as a typical day in his Miami life