🧑 Client Overview & Context 0:00

- Client: Donovan — described as an "ordinary-looking guy," "average Joe," approximately 5'9"–5'10"
  - Not a "Chad" — the point is to show what is achievable for a normal man
- Previously had some dating app success, then results "dried up"
  - Watched a Deni Ops video on pick-up lines and realized he needed to change approach
  - Has since pivoted to Instagram as a primary closing platform
    - Rationale: girls can see social proof, feel more comfortable, are less nervous on dates
    - Coach agrees: "Instagram is the future of dating"
- Had been banned on Hinge previously (and got banned again on a new device — suspected automated face recognition)
- Goal of this call: rebuild both Tinder and Hinge profiles from scratch with AI photos, optimized bios, and prompts

📱 Account Setup Strategy (New Devices, SIMs, Emails) 1:35

- New phone is recommended for fresh accounts — avoids device-level bans
- Phone numbers:
  - Physical pay-as-you-go SIM cards (e.g., from Asda/Tesco) no longer work — Tinder/Hinge stopped sending verification codes to them
  - e-SIMs work better — recommended source: Lycamobile, £3.50 via internet search for "pay as you go"
    - Cancel auto-renew after purchase; gives a legitimate SIM card
  - Donovan used a completely new phone with its own number — confirmed working
- Email:
  - For Hinge: as long as the email has never been used on Hinge before, it's fine — even if the same email is linked to a Tinder account
  - Tinder and Hinge are connected platforms but email eligibility is tracked per-platform
- Verification:
  - Tinder requires photo/face verification — this is unavoidable and makes workarounds harder
  - Critical warning: Never verify two accounts (two Hinge or two Tinder profiles) simultaneously with photo verification
    - "If you photo verify both of them, bro, you're finished. You can't get back on the apps."
    - Coach personally did this and cannot get back on Tinder for approximately a year
  - Hinge bans have been very frequent recently — coach says he's been banned 7 times in the last 2 months and simply makes a new account each time with a new phone/iCloud
    - Sometimes phone gets "bricked" and you need to change credit card details too
- iCloud: Coach does not believe Hinge tracks by iCloud — getting a new iCloud is still recommended for clean starts
- Left swipe trick on Tinder: After setting up, left swipe two girls and close the app — allows the algorithm to reset properly
- Tinder activity rule: Tinder punishes activity — stay inactive after setup and let likes accumulate
- Hinge activity rule: Hinge rewards activity — be active, swipe, and reply to matches immediately
- Wait 24 hours before restoring any in-app purchases on a new account

🤳 Tinder Profile Build — Step by Step 2:10

- Name: Use an alias or nickname (e.g., "Don" instead of full name)
  - Reasoning: If you've matched many girls before, changing the name avoids recognition
  - If asked why the name is different, can say it's a nickname/shortened version
- Age/Birthday: Doesn't matter — put anything
- Distance:
  - General recommendation: 50 miles

    - London specifically: 37 miles (densely packed city — no need for more)
- Intent/Relationship goal: Put "long-term partner"
    - "Still figuring it out" is now seen by girls as a lack of commitment — "patched"
- University: Skip — not important
- Interests (pick ~7–8): Choose the most typical, mass-appeal options:
    - Netflix, bars, hiking, travel, Instagram, cocktails, pubs
    - Hiking specifically noted as appealing to fitter girls
    - Instagram listed because it helps funnel matches there
- Height: Client is 5'10"–5'11" but was advised (and chose) to list 6'4"
- Verify email: Must be done — "a lot of people forget that and then it obviously doesn't get the best results"
- Notifications: Turn on

📸 AI Photo Selection & Order 7:50

- AI-generated photos were prepared in advance by "Mix" (a team member/service)
- Coach notes quality has improved significantly and they're a "big thing for the profile"
- Recommended photo order (both Tinder and Hinge):
    - Photo 1: Beach photo — exotic location, high visual appeal, strong first impression
        - Pick the version where the beard is slightly thicker
    - Photo 2: Leaning against wall, black shirt, cross necklace — "looks very real, confirms you're not AI, gives a strong impression"
    - Photo 3: On beach with hoodie wrapped around neck — high appeal, girls respond to the hair; described as "really high appeal picture"
    - Photo 4: Shirtless in sauna — adds balance with a shirtless picture
    - Photo 5: Standing upright, white top, glasses, fence in background
    - Photo 6 (last): Restaurant photo — "gives a perspective of what it would be like to be on a date with you"
- Top photo feature on Hinge: Disable it (turn off "top photo" in settings)

✍️ Tinder Bio & Prompts 12:23

- Bio: Seasonally tailored — sent via WhatsApp during the call
    - > "Need a wifey for the Christmas markets"
    - Reasoning: Entering winter season, strong long-term framing, "very performative male"
    - Coach notes Halloween was considered but was expiring that same week

- Alternative lines for others watching: "Looking for someone to snuggle up with at Christmas" — "these girls love that"

- Prompt 1 — Hottest Take:
  - "A real princess should be carried in my arms on the first date"
  - Strong, playful, masculine framing
- Prompt 2 — Perk of Dating Me (or Unusual Skill):
  - "Great sense of direction"
  - Reasoning: Girls are looking for a man who can lead and take control
- Prompt 3 — My Ideal Weekend Includes / Date Idea:
  - "Making a banging jollof rice for you topless in a chef's apron"
  - Customized to Donovan's Ghanaian background (jollof rice is a famous West African dish)
  - Coach notes this functions as a date idea opener as well
  - Coach's general comment: "I don't know why girls have like a fantasy of that but that is their wet dream"

🟣 Hinge Profile Build — Step by Step 19:00

- Same photo order as Tinder
- Same prompts as Tinder (Hinge prompt labels are easier to navigate)
- Ethnicity field: Set to "White/Caucasian" — do NOT make visible on profile
  - Coach's reasoning: "I think the app is racist and gives you better results when you put white Caucasian. It's not even the girls — girls don't filter by race. It's just the app."
- Relationship goal: Long-term relationship — make visible
- Sexuality: "Figuring it out" — set to NOT visible (avoid confusion)
- Education: Graduate degree — doesn't matter much
- Job: Listed as Bartender (suggested alternatives: Professional Chef, Cocktail Mixer)
  - Where you work: leave blank / irrelevant
- Hometown: Listed as "Jamaica Ghana" — visible on profile
  - Reasoning: Gives exotic appeal and conversation starter ("Oh, where are you from?")
- Children: Don't have them — make visible (shows you're unattached)
- Want children: "Not sure" — set to NOT visible
- Religion: Spiritual — make visible (attracts spiritually-minded girls who ask questions)
- Politics: Set to NOT visible — allows you to match your views to the girl's in conversation
- Drinking: Yes — make visible
- Smoking/Drugs: No — set to NOT visible
  - Reasoning: Hides it so you can tolerate it if the girl is attractive enough
- Distance: 37 miles (same as Tinder for London)
  - Advised to stay under 40 miles in densely packed cities

- Age range: Donovan is 27 — set range roughly ±5–9 years (18–36 discussed)
- Don't include the zero in the UK phone number when registering
- Hinge matching tip: Unlike Tinder, on Hinge you should actively use up your likes — the algorithm rewards engagement

💬 Opening Lines & Pick-Up Strategy 26:58

- Primary goal: get matches off Hinge/Tinder and onto Instagram as quickly as possible
  - "There's no need to waffle on on Hinge. Just get them onto the Instagram."
  - Instagram DMs allow more freedom and comfort
- Three core opening lines used on the call (tied to profile prompts):
  - "I would love to be your go-to chef" — references the cooking/jollof prompt
  - "I love to pick you up into my arms for our first date" — references the princess/carry prompt
  - "You look like a type B person" — references the great sense of direction prompt; sparks curiosity (type B = unorganized; either she agrees, disagrees, or asks what it means)
- Supplemental lines tried live:
  - "Can you split the G?" — playful Irish/cultural reference
  - "You'd have to be my dessert after I cook for you" — flirty, food-themed
  - "You look like you're really good at winning arguments" — teasing, works with the profile theme
- Strategy note: Vary the opener per girl; tie it to a specific prompt or photo for personalization
- Don't use her name in the opening message — just lead with the line
- After sending openers, stop at 3 likes/sends per session and close the app (Tinder algorithm management)

📊 Early Results (~24 Hours In) 37:09

- Approximately 24 hours after the profile went live:
  - ~30 likes on Tinder — coach calls it "fucking crazy"
  - Multiple active message threads — matches are engaging with messages
  - Client still had more girls to swipe on
- Previous account reached 99+ likes within about a week — coach predicts this new account will hit it faster
- Client attributes improvement to: AI pictures, prompts, bio, and overall service quality improvement over the past year
- Next check-in call scheduled for ~48–72 hours (Thursday) to review matches and go through messaging strategy

🚗 First Date Strategy & Logistics 38:21

- Bar crawl format is the recommended first date structure:

    - Start at a nice cocktail bar (central London; Donovan mentions Oxford Street area)
    - Move bar to bar — 2 to 3 bars total
    - Choose bougie venues (examples: Sexy Fish, Ivy Asia) for status signaling
        - Tactic: order the cheapest drink on the menu regardless — she won't see the price
        - "The girl's going to think you're a daddy... but bro, you're choosing the cheapest drinks on the menu"
    - Avoid activity-based dates — "drinks and bars are the best"
- Seating: Always sit next to the girl, never across from her
    - Aim for a corner table away from others — privacy increases comfort and openness to escalation
- Physical escalation timeline:
    - From the moment you meet: put your arm around her waist immediately
    - At bar 1: hand on her leg or arm around her
    - At bar 2: kiss/escalate
- Logistics hack — driving to dates:
    - Coach's personal method: drive to every date, tell the girl he can't drink much because he's driving
        - Girls do most of the drinking; reduces his drink costs significantly
        - Easy extraction: "Do you want to give me a room tour?" or offer to teach her to drive → she sits on his lap → escalation
    - Coach claims every date in the last 2 months resulted in sex on the first night using this method
    - Donovan is considering renting a car (coach knows contacts in London for rentals, e.g., BMW M5)
- Location strategy:
    - Find out where the girl lives first
    - Choose bars in walking distance of her home — makes returning to her place easier
    - Examples: Canary Wharf mentioned as an area to explore
- Targeting: Prioritize girls who live alone or in university accommodation — avoids family complications
- Alcohol tactic: Order her a double tequila shot to accelerate the evening
- If no place to go: Car, Travelodge, or her place are the realistic options
    - Public spots noted as possible in summer (parks, fields) but impractical in cold weather
- Max's ratio (co-coach): roughly 1-in-3 first dates result in sex
- Coach's self-admitted weakness: "I rub in the girl's face that I can replace her" — ego gets in the way occasionally

🤖 Chatbot & Future Plans 35:18

- Deni Ops is building an AI chatbot (currently in beta) to handle dating app messaging for clients
    - Currently: messages are AI-drafted but manually approved by Max or coach before sending
    - Goal: fully autonomous chatbot that replies instantly 24/7 without human approval

    - "It's literally like us speaking to [the girl], except it can reply instantly 24/7 because it doesn't sleep"
    - Motivation: team is global (clients in Australia, UK, etc.) and can't stay online around the clock
- Next steps for Donovan:
    - Follow-up call in ~3 days (Thursday) to review results, go through matches and messages
    - Coach will send message scripts and follow-up lines via WhatsApp
    - Date strategy coaching and optimization for girls already in Donovan's WhatsApp pipeline
    - Donovan plans to screenshot coaching videos and use the lines/frameworks as a personal playbook
