

10 / 10 GYM RULES.

Channel: Brandon Carter · Published: Sep 28, 2026 · Watch: <https://www.youtube.com/shorts/u1jWb8wHkcY> Source: full transcript

Executive Summary

Brandon Carter runs through 10 unwritten gym etiquette rules — from reracking weights to respecting headphones — warning that breaking them will make everyone around you hate you.

Contents

-  Rule 1: Re-rack Your Weights
-  Rule 2: No Bicep Curls in the Squat Rack
-  Rule 3: Wipe Down Machines After Use
-  Rule 4: No Unsolicited Advice
-  Rule 5: Share Equipment When Using Your Phone Between Sets
-  Rule 6: No Excessive Grunting or Yelling
-  Rule 7: Respect Headphones — Don't Interrupt
-  Rule 8: Don't Slam Weights on the Floor
-  Rule 9: Shower Before the Sauna
-  Rule 10: Allow Working-In on Equipment

Rule 1: Re-rack Your Weights 0:00

- Always return weights to their designated place after use
 - The gym staff and other members are not there to clean up after you
 - Leaving weights scattered is inconsiderate to everyone sharing the space

Rule 2: No Bicep Curls in the Squat Rack 0:00

- Doing bicep curls in the squat rack is explicitly called out as off-limits
 - There are plenty of other pieces of equipment available for curls
 - Occupying the squat rack for curls wastes a limited, high-demand resource

Rule 3: Wipe Down Machines After Use 0:00

- Clean machines and benches after you finish your set
 - Heavy sweating is normal, but leaving sweat behind for the next person is not acceptable
 - Basic hygiene courtesy — don't expect others to lie or sit in your sweat

Rule 4: No Unsolicited Advice 0:22

- Never offer advice to someone who hasn't asked for it
 - Doesn't matter how unusual their technique looks — they may have a reason you're unaware of
 - They could be rehabbing an injury, following a specific program, or experimenting intentionally
 - Unsolicited coaching comes across as arrogant and unwelcome

Rule 5: Share Equipment When Using Your Phone Between Sets 0:22

- If you're resting and on your phone between sets, you're still occupying the machine
 - In that case, you should allow others to work in with you
 - Hogging equipment during long rest periods while scrolling is inconsiderate

Rule 6: No Excessive Grunting or Yelling 0:22

- Loud, dramatic grunting and screaming is unnecessary
 - Direct quote: *"I promise you, the weight is not that heavy"
 - It disturbs other gym-goers and comes across as attention-seeking

Rule 7: Respect Headphones — Don't Interrupt 0:44

- If someone is wearing headphones, that is a strong social signal they do not want to be talked to
 - Interrupting someone with headphones in is widely considered rude gym behavior
 - Read the cue and leave them to their workout

Rule 8: Don't Slam Weights on the Floor 0:44

- Dropping or slamming weights aggressively makes you look bad
 - Direct quote: *"It makes you look pathetic"
 - It's noisy, potentially damages equipment, and signals ego over control

Rule 9: Shower Before the Sauna 0:44

- Rinse off before entering the sauna
 - Entering the sauna sweaty and unwashed after a workout makes the enclosed space unpleasant for everyone else
 - Basic hygiene requirement out of respect for shared facilities

Rule 10: Allow Working-In on Equipment 0:44

- If someone asks to alternate sets with you on a machine, let them

- Everyone in the gym is there for the same reason — to improve themselves

"We're all here to get better." — The underlying philosophy tying all 10 rules together: mutual respect makes the gym work for everyone.