🤖 The Workflow: How Claude Handles Everything 0:00

- Brandon no longer edits his Reels himself, nor does he manually post them
  - Claude handles both editing and publishing across all platforms
- The process he follows:
  - Upload a reference video in the style he wants his content to look like
  - Ask Claude to edit his raw footage to match that reference style
  - Upload the raw footage for Claude to work with
  - Review the result — once satisfied, tell Claude: "Post this on all platforms"
- The instruction is conversational and simple: he describes it as telling Claude "hey man, post this everywhere"

📅 The Result: 20 Scheduled Reels, Zero Manual Editing 0:00

- He currently has 20 Reels scheduled across platforms
  - He edited none of them himself
- The workflow fully removes two major time costs: editing and publishing
- Implied benefit: more content output with significantly less personal time invested
