- 🚶 Tip 1: Walk 20,000 Steps a Day
- 📊 Tip 2: Track Calories and Macros
- 💪 Tip 3: Train Full Body Workouts at Least 4x a Week
- 🍺 Tip 4: Quit Drinking for 30 Days
- 🧪 Tip 5: Take 10–20 Grams of Creatine Every Day
- 😴 Tip 6: Sleep 7–8 Hours Every Night

🚶 Tip 1: Walk 20,000 Steps a Day 0:00

- Target: 20,000 steps per day
  - The average person burns an extra ~800 calories daily at this level
  - Carter emphasizes it's "not as hard as you think"
- Credibility claim: he has trained thousands of people who have successfully hit this target

📊 Tip 2: Track Calories and Macros 0:07

- Start logging everything you eat
- Calorie formula for fat loss:
  - Take your bodyweight in pounds
  - Multiply by 10
  - That number = daily calorie target
- Protein target: at least 1 gram of protein per pound of bodyweight to preserve muscle while losing fat

💪 Tip 3: Train Full Body Workouts at Least 4x a Week 0:22

- Minimum frequency: 4 full-body sessions per week
- Historical context: before steroids became prevalent, every bodybuilder used full-body training splits

- The science behind it (for natural lifters):
  - Protein synthesis after resistance training only lasts ~48 hours
  - If you do a "chest day" once a week, you miss 5 days of potential muscle growth for that muscle group
- Carter's personal note:
  - He is no longer natural (he mentions injecting testosterone) but still does full-body workouts exclusively
  - When he was natural and doing full-body training, others assumed he was using steroids because his results outpaced theirs

> "Everybody thought I was juicing when I was natural cuz I was doing full body workouts and they weren't."

🍺 Tip 4: Quit Drinking for 30 Days 0:44

- Alcohol harms fat loss in two ways:
  - Adds direct calories
  - Negatively affects hormones, which decreases the fat-burning process itself
- Carter's personal example: he has not been drinking for over 12 years
- Framing: "It's not that hard, man"

🧪 Tip 5: Take 10–20 Grams of Creatine Every Day 0:55

- Recommended dose: 10–20 grams per day
- Why creatine:
  - One of the most studied supplements on the planet
  - Costs less than coffee
  - Drives water into the muscles (not under the skin), making muscles look bigger and harder
- Expected timeline: visible results within 30 days

😴 Tip 6: Sleep 7–8 Hours Every Night 1:07

- Target: 7–8 hours of sleep per night
- What the research shows about sleep deprivation while dieting:
  - Sleeping less than 6 hours still results in weight loss, but the composition shifts:
    - More of the weight lost comes from muscle
    - Less comes from fat
- Hormonal angle for natural lifters:
  - Testosterone is produced during sleep
  - Carter's aside: "I inject mine" (acknowledging he is on TRT/steroids, so this matters more for natural athletes)
