-  Step 1: Connect Claude to Vid IQ
-  Step 2: Find Outlier Videos
-  Step 3: Recreate with a Script Interview
-  Bonus: Pre-Built Outlier Video List

Step 1: Connect Claude to Vid IQ 0:00

- Open Claude (referred to as "Claw" in the video) and connect it to the Vid IQ tool
 - This gives Claude the ability to query Vid IQ's data directly from the chat interface

Step 2: Find Outlier Videos 0:05

- Type a prompt into Claude such as: "Use Vid IQ to find Reels on Instagram in the fitness niche"
 - Claude doesn't just surface videos with high raw view counts (e.g. 1M+ views)
 - It specifically finds videos that outperform the creator's other videos — true outliers
 - This matters because an outlier signals the content format/topic resonated unusually well, regardless of channel size
- The goal is to identify proven content structures, not just popular accounts

Step 3: Recreate with a Script Interview 0:22

- Once outlier videos are identified, type into Claude: "Interview me and ask me questions until you have enough information to write me a script that allows me to recreate this video in my own words"
 - Claude asks you questions to capture your personal perspective, experience, and voice
 - It then writes a script modeled on the outlier video's structure — but in your own words
- The framing: you are not copying or stealing content
 - You are making content "based off content that's proven to perform"

- Structure and topic are borrowed; execution and voice are original

Bonus: Pre-Built Outlier Video List 0:45

- Brandon has already done the outlier research for fitness creators
 - Comment "vault" on the video and he will send a list of hundreds of outlier fitness niche videos ready to replicate
 - Skips the research step entirely for anyone in the fitness content space
