The Apple Folding Phone Lesson 0:00

- Apple released a folding iPhone despite Google, Samsung, and Huawei having made folding phones for almost 10 years
 - Apple didn't need to invent the category — they just put their own spin on an existing product
 - The key insight: being new to a space is enough to generate attention and revenue, even without being first

The Fear of Competition 0:22

- Many aspiring creators and business owners are scared to start because they see a crowded market
 - The common belief:
