What You Want vs. What It Costs

Channel: Brandon Carter · Published: Oct 24, 2026 · Watch: https://www.youtube.com/shorts/8CjAWliyb7Q Source: full transcript

📋 Executive Summary

Every desirable outcome has a required cost. Brandon Carter pairs six goals with their non-negotiable prices, framing success as a simple exchange rather than luck.

📑 Contents

- 🔄 The Six Trade-offs

🔄 The Six Trade-offs 0:00

- Each desired outcome is paired with what you must be willing to give or endure in return:
  - Freedom costs discipline
  - Success costs patience
  - Money costs a willingness to take risks
  - Growth costs consistency
  - Peace costs the ability to set boundaries
  - Opportunity costs being okay with something left unstated — the transcript cuts off before the final word is revealed
- The structure implies a transactional worldview: nothing valuable is free; it is exchanged for a specific, often uncomfortable, behavior or mindset
- The repetition of "if you want… then you got to" reinforces that these are non-negotiable conditions, not suggestions