40 is unc not 30

Channel: Tim Luong · Published: Oct 25, 2026 · Watch: https://www.youtube.com/shorts/uFCDApMzm4o Source: full transcript

📋 Executive Summary

Tim Luong recently turned 30 and challenges social media commenters who call him "young," asserting that 30 is not a young age and drawing a line between 30 and 40.

📑 Contents

- 🎂 Entering His 30s and the "Young" Comments
- 🚫 Pushback: 30 Is Not Young

🎂 Entering His 30s and the "Young" Comments 0:00

- Tim recently entered his 30s
  - He has been noticing a pattern of comments on YouTube and Instagram
    - Commenters describe him as "still young"

🚫 Pushback: 30 Is Not Young 0:00

- He wants to clarify one thing directly
  - "30 is not a young age" — his core point
  - The video title frames the contrast: 40 is "unc" (slang for uncle, implying older/middle-aged), not 30
    - Implication: 30 should be considered the threshold where "young" no longer applies, not 40