Max's Hinge Profile Breakdown 0:00

- Max is a member of the "Innova team" and the person described as the mastermind behind the playbooks
- Six photos used, each serving a specific purpose:
 - Photo 1: Cooking — described as a "niche hobby" that signals high status and sexual energy; "a man that can cook" is framed as highly desirable
 - Photo 2: A "visualization" shot — intended to make a girl imagine waking up next to Max; described as "setting the scene and the story"
 - Photo 3: A "first trap" — shows off physical assets, signals confidence in a high-sexual-energy context
 - Photo 4: A date-perspective shot — shows what it would look like to be across from Max on a date
 - Photo 5: Playful photo with plushies — light-hearted and fun; rationale is that "girls have a lot of plushies" so it creates relatability
 - Photo 6: Shirtless image — described as a high sexual-energy closing photo
- Note: Deni mentions all of Max's profile pictures are AI generated, directly addressing the objection that you need to be physically attractive to get results

Profile Settings & Prompts 1:07

- Turn off "Top Photos" — Hinge's algorithm for ranking your photos is described as unreliable; never let the app choose your photo order
- Do not verify your account — stated rationale: if you ever get banned, a verified account means you can never return to the app; described as "not worth it long term"
- Three prompts used on Max's profile:
 - "Unusual skills" prompt answered with: "Crazy sense of direction" — joke framing targeting the stereotype that girls get lost easily
 - "I'm weirdly attracted to" answered with: "Rave girls" — intentionally signals attraction to "degenerate" women to attract a similar type
 - "Dating me is like" answered with: "A golden retriever" — framed as telling the girl what she wants to hear; a personality type girls are "chasing"
- Alternative prompt resource: Deni mentions a free prompts tool on his website, no sign-up required

Reading the Match's Profile (Ishma) 1:51

- Match is described as a Pakistani girl named Ishma
- Profile read:
 - Photos: described as basic NPC selfies, nothing extraordinary
 - Nickname coined for her internally: "biryani bunny" — used later as a flirting tool
 - Prompts: very generic (e.g., "My most irrational fear: the dark"; "Together we could: watch anime and play mini golf")
 - Deni speculates prompts may have been written with ChatGPT
- Personality assessment:
 - Outwardly conservative and shy
 - Internally described as a "brat" — submissive but with high standards
 - Categorized as "the most basic NPC Pakistani girl"
- Why this analysis matters: understanding her profile is used to calibrate the exact tone, openers, and escalation style needed throughout texting

Hinge Texting Phase 2:58

- Ishma liked Max's picture first — framed as the highest possible signal of interest because "she sent the first message"
- Universal opener used — described as classic, safe, and "guaranteed to work"; nothing bold because Ishma reads as a low-energy conservative girl
 - Contrast noted: bolder openers are used on Tinder for different profile types
- Pickup line close: "Me with my arms around you"
 - Her reply is basic; many guys would give up here — Deni says that is a mistake
- Diagnostic question: "Would you prefer my arms around your waist or neck?"

- Waist = conservative girl
- Neck = more sexually open girl
- Both = mixed; described as "trickier to navigate"
- Ishma answered: both — low dry energy but not disinterested
- Response to "both": "I love that — I was thinking waist in public and neck for my eyes only"
 - Purpose: create a visualization, seed sexual intent subtly
 - Result: her reply quality improved noticeably; momentum began building
- Qualifier question: "Are you a dinner or cocktails girl?"
 - She answered dinner — confirms conservative profile read
 - This information is immediately used to shape the date suggestion
- Date seed on the app: suggest a romantic dinner (not drinks) based on her answer
 - Key rule: do not keep the Hinge conversation going too long with a low-interest girl — close to a number and move to WhatsApp or a real date
 - "The real chances of converting her is over WhatsApp and on a real date"
- Number successfully acquired; conversation moved to WhatsApp

Moving to WhatsApp 5:57

- Opening message establishes identity with authority: "It's Max from Hinge"
- Flirt seed: asks "What am I saving you as on here?" — creates a grounds to escalate with a nickname
 - Her reply: "Just save it as Ishmael" (plain/unromantic)
- Nickname escalation: instead of the overplayed "future wifey," Max goes with "Biryani Bunny" — tailored to her Pakistani background
 - Her reaction: "Biryani what?" — shocked but engaged; the tease worked
- Frame-holding principle introduced here:
 - She pushes back ("I'm not like these white girls")
 - Correct move: do not fold, do not apologize, hold your position
 - Folding = instant loss of respect, even if she doesn't leave immediately
 - Max responds: validates her uniqueness ("I can definitely tell you're unique") to soften the blow without backtracking

Holding your frame through a woman's "shit tests" is described as the single most important repeating skill across the entire conversation.

- Bold frame continuation: "You must think I'm hot though since you haven't blocked me yet"
 - Her reply: "Hot yes, but personality is still yet to be determined" — she acknowledges attraction, challenges personality
 - Deni frames this as completely normal; girls are not expected to do all the validation work

Nickname Frame & Holding Ground 6:17

- Next move: "Oh well, I know how I can help determine that" — pivots toward closing a date
 - She says: "Well, that remains to be seen" — mild resistance, not rejection
- Safety/comfort objection handled:
 - She says: "What if you murder me?" — Deni frames this as completely natural for a smaller woman (estimated ~5'4", ~40 kg) meeting a larger man
 - Response: "Of course, we'll talk more, silly" — playful reassurance rather than over-explaining
- Human personality injection: Max references Dexter (TV show) — "I'm not Dexter, but I need to know something first"
 - Rationale: up to this point the conversation looks scripted and flirty-only; referencing a niche cultural touchpoint proves there is a real personality behind the charm
 - "As soon as you start mentioning niche movies... that's when things become real"
- Suspense tactic: "I need to know something first" — withhold the question deliberately to spike curiosity
 - She asks: "What is that?" — suspense worked
- Callback to her profile niche: Max asks "Can you cook biryani?"
 - She replies: "The best" and takes the cultural reference lightly, not as an insult
 - She fires back: "Don't think you could hack it though" (stereotyping a white German guy with spice)
 - This is the turning point where she starts matching energy and the conversation momentum "skyrockets"

Escalation, Brat Frames & Finding Limits 10:31

- Biryani thread pivot: "Trying to kill your future husband already?"
 - Flips vulnerability — Max becomes the playfully "at-risk" one instead of the girl; creates contrast and humor
 - She responds flirtatiously, implying she could "take advantage" of him
- Mirroring technique: Max mirrors her language ("I'll break your guard down before you can do that") to keep momentum
- Late reply handling:
 - She disappears then returns: "Sorry for the late reply, I've been very busy"
 - Deni's rule: this is completely normal; she has a life; do not panic or guilt-trip
- Comfort re-establishment mid-escalation: when she says "You're playing games with me," Max pulls back slightly: "I wouldn't dare. Not with my future wifey" — re-introduces safety framing
- Identifying her brat kink:
 - Multiple signals: resisting compliments, asking "What do I get in return?", not giving in easily
 - Deni explains: some girls have a brat kink and you need to know how to deal with it — don't confuse resistance with rejection
- Photo exchange:

- Max sends a shirtless photo (described as a "first trap" to boost attraction)
- She responds: "Oh hot, I do have a thing for abs"
- She sends a photo back (described as showing a bit of cleavage but nothing extreme)
- Sexual escalation framework:
 - Max frames laying her head on his abs in a submissive/dominant dynamic
 - She pushes back: "Oh, you would like that" / "I don't think there is a way"
 - He reframes: "It's more for your benefit than mine" — positions her as the one who gains
- Finding her limit:
 - Max pushes toward a reciprocal sexual act; she pulls away: "No — what do I get in return for that?"
 - Deni's read: she hasn't said "I'm not that type of girl" — she's negotiating, not refusing
 - Adjustment: pivot to offering her pleasure instead (going down on her) — "every girl is different and what they want"
 - Her response: "Don't keep promises you can't keep" — high interest signal; she's engaged
- Cat photo tease:
 - She says "I just washed my cat" — Deni reads this as a double entendre
 - Max plays along and asks to see it; she sends a picture of her actual cat
 - Deni's lesson: sometimes letting the girl win is the right move; don't be the guy who says "I knew it" and sours the mood
- Date seed closing line: "Talk is cheap. I'd rather show you" — pivots all built-up sexual tension toward the real-life date

17 Closing the Date & Pre-Date Logistics 20:08

- She signals readiness: "Wine and dine me first"
- Max asks for her schedule; she says: "I'm pretty free this week" — Deni flags this as a very strong signal (offering the whole week rather than specific limited slots)
- Trust issue handling: she says "That's what they all say" (trust issues)
 - Response: make a bold but believable promise; don't promise things too good to be true
- Date confirmed: Thursday, escape room + dinner (fulfilling the dinner promise made on Hinge)
- Pre-date momentum rule:
 - Do NOT go silent between setting the date and the actual date
 - Talk to her daily about her life; if you set a date and disappear until the day-of, she will not show up
 - "You're walking on eggshells" — this is the easiest stage to blow
- Gym photo excuse: Max mentions going to the gym — gives him a natural reason to send a physique photo without it seeming try-hard; she asks to see if he "lives up to the hype"
 - Deni's principle: withhold sending the photo — "I'll show you in person" — builds anticipation
- Pickup logistics:

- Max offers to pick her up; she sends her address
- She asks what car he's coming in; he says vaguely "a red coupe"
- Rule: never flex the car brand (no "AMG" or "M3 Competition"); it reads as try-hard and insecure; just say a color and a body type
- Outfit instruction: Max tells her to "wear something cute so we can match" — taking lead on the date aesthetic
 - Sometimes specifies a dress depending on venue

The Date & Post-Date Progression 24:16

- The time gap in the chat = the actual date (escape room + dinner)
- Post-date message: "Thanks for last night, get home safe" — she confirms she got home and immediately asks for the photos from the date together
 - Deni frames this as extracting commitment — she is now invested enough to want shared memories
- She opens up: "I just passed out when you left" — submissive, comfort-seeking; Deni reads this as a strong sign of emotional engagement
- Second date setup:
 - Post-date texting described as "boring" but essential — just normal human conversation about her life, light teasing, things like "I can still taste your lips"
 - The second date is where Max and Ishma have sex
 - Deni describes this stage as "not hard to mess up" as long as you continue showing up as a normal, attentive person
- Outro / CTA: Deni offers a done-for-you service — running your Hinge/Tinder profile for you; positions his team as "the best in the game"
