

How To Get A Swimmers Body

Channel: Onem · Published: Aug 03, 2026 · Watch: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7c6kch-ASjw> Source: full transcript

Executive Summary

Using a clickbait title as a hook, the creator rants about passive content consumption and young men avoiding work, then delivers an extended sales pitch for the ONM membership ecosystem — a three-tier system of free education, a paid network/course, and a lifestyle members club with physical locations globally.

The Bait-and-Switch Hook 0:00

- The video title "How To Get A Swimmer's Body" is intentionally misleading
 - The answer given immediately: "You swim, you idiot"
 - The hook is used to make a broader point about people consuming content instead of taking action
- Sets up the core thesis: people search for elaborate answers to questions that have obvious, action-based solutions

Rant: Passive Content Consumption and the "Brokey" Generation 0:22

- Criticises the cycle of repetitive, copycat content on YouTube

- Example pattern: "day in the life of a millionaire" videos getting 400,000 views, then identical versions made by new creators
- "Zero to a million" content follows the same recycled format
- Creators copy each other; viewers keep watching the same thing on repeat
- Criticises reality TV stars and rich kids entering the self-improvement content space
 - They replicate each other's content without original insight
 - Viewers watch passively and still change nothing in their lives
- Describes a recurring situation from his loan/finance business:
 - A 25-year-old applicant applies for a loan; the business charges £4,000/year, the applicant only has £2,000
 - When asked why they have so little at 25, the applicant says: "I don't want to be a brokey, so I'm working on my business"
 - The applicant has no job, believing getting a job makes you a "brokey"
 - Creator's response: "No, no — you currently ARE a brokey. Get a job."

The 10-Year CV Gap Prediction 1:33

- Makes a prediction he considers his "biggest danger" warning for this generation
 - Young men are spending their late teens and 20s avoiding employment, chasing the "top G alpha male" identity
 - By age 29–30, they will finally seek employment but face a 10-year gap on their CV
 - Employers will ask: "Why is there a 10-year gap?" — "I was building a business" won't be enough if no money was made
 - Predicted outcome: working shelf-stacking jobs at Walmart or Wilkinsons
- Compares this to a previous prediction he made: women in their 30s regretting not settling down — which he says came true
- Frames ONM as the solution: a structured system where someone can join at 18 and by 30 be "traveling the world and living an amazing lifestyle"

Tier 1 — ONM Education (Free) 3:51

- Completely free — no cost to join
- Hosted on a Skool community platform
- Two communities exist: ONM Education and ONM Work; ONM Education is the starting point
- Structure on entry:
 - Welcome orientation showing what's available
 - Immediate direction to begin ONM 42 — the core 42-day challenge
- Tagline: "Stop watching, start becoming — begin your 42-day challenge today and become the man you always knew you could be"

- Divided into 6 weeks (Weeks 1–6 = 42 days)
- Includes early habit: set a 5:00 a.m. alarm from day one
- Members are asked to post that they're starting — for accountability and to have a progress photo to look back on
- Behavioral standards expected even in the free tier:
 - How members conduct themselves in public reflects on ONM as a whole
 - Example given: littering on the street is seen as a poor reflection on the community and its leadership

The ONM 42-Day Challenge 4:36

- The "Male Advantage Pathway" framework underpins the challenge:
 - Step 1: Learn
 - Step 2: Do
 - Step 3: Live
- Daily content progresses week by week through day 42
- Includes:
 - Calisthenics and weight training guidance
 - Tips on looking leaner, leaner in the face, building real muscle
 - A Hinge masterclass (for dating app use)
 - Optional: shave your head
 - Reminder: "Your dream life is very behind a very thin wall"
- Members post in the feed to celebrate completion
- Anything marked with a crown icon is a "growth accelerator" — highest priority challenges

Growth Accelerator Challenges 6:56

- Designed to push men out of their comfort zone and build confidence
- Examples of challenges included:
 - Join a non-gym-related class (e.g., cooking, coffee making)
 - Have an actual fight — caveated as sparring or white-collar boxing
 - Film a 10-minute landscape vlog-style video
 - Lie on the floor for 2 minutes in public
 - Jump off a 10-metre high board
- Philosophy: completing them is great; not completing them is acceptable — the point is attempting discomfort
- Also includes content on: how to look better, how to build momentum, how to stop living vicariously through other men

Tier 2 — ONM Work (£450/year) 8:37

- £450 per year — locks in that price permanently (price will rise significantly in future)
- Primary value: access to the exclusive ONM Members Club network
- Secondary value: a complimentary 250-video, 30-hour course bundled in
- Framed as: "an ONM network with an additional bonus course attached"
- Creator's pitch: "These are the only two tools you'll ever need to become successful"
- Locking in at £450 now also locks in the future ONM Lifestyle price
 - For those not ready to travel or join fully: pay £450 now to secure the rate before it rises to ~£4,000/year

Course Content Breakdown 10:13

- 250 videos, ~30 hours of content across multiple modules
- Average video length: ~6 minutes; some up to 1 hour

The Empire (Business Success) - Survivorship bias - Silencing dopamine from "performative noise" (course sellers who grew up rich) - Cannibalizing past efforts for future growth - Accepting you will want to quit at least once a month (creator says he goes through this himself) - Accept it may take a decade - Using 9-5 jobs as learning environments — "9-5 jobs are bank loans without the repayments" - Finding the big needle movers - Beware of course sellers with beginner-level experience - The expanding/consolidate strategy - What investors want (creator has been meeting investors recently) - Where rich people really are - Active money-making steps you can take today - Creating content (section to be expanded) - What he learned from the richest people he's met - "If I had to start from zero, here's what I'd do" — described as a genuine strategy, contrasted with Grant Cardone-style advice ("If I started from zero, I'd first buy 50 houses" — mocked as useless advice) - Maintaining success

Marathon Mindset (Attracting Women & Relationships) - Creator's personal story with women - Life setup and framing for attraction - "The game after the game" — one of his favourite topics - The Lord Mayor's Show strategy — described as "a bit bad but works so effectively" - Silence destroys women - Understanding women / giving them space - "Women are never truly gone" — 27-minute video - Relationships module: - Getting back with an ex - How to keep a relationship - What to look for in a wife - The 10-year age gap - Red flags that are genuinely real - Horses for courses — looking at personality - Sustainable physical and personality traits - Creator's stated personal goal: long-term relationship, building something sustainable

Life Setup - Financials, location hacking, knowledge and assets - Taxes (some content described as too sensitive for public internet) - Monaco residency — "Monaco isn't that hard to get into" - Perfect budget life setup + unlimited budget life setup - Dear UK guys — private message/video for UK members - Tier 3 cities — creator says these cities are "running the world right now" (also available in free tier) - Straight Seven System - The Power of the Tribe - Calming technique for framing - Empty leg private jet hack — how to get private jets cheaply - The 80/20 rule of life setup — short but highly recommended - Life setup ranking system - Estonian taxes, US LLCs, assets - Conversation starters as assets - Rare opportunity scouting - Getting luxury cars cheap - Safe houses around the world - Interior/exterior design - Who to hire to make your life easier

Iron Confidence - True confidence defined: "I could have nothing tomorrow and I'd still be one of the most confident men alive" - The mindset behind confidence - "The world owes you nothing" - Three different brain types - How to control your emotions - Perspective removes all fears - You either win or you learn - Speak your mind from the outset - The Ancelotti Moment (based on a meme) - Doing hard things - Comparison is silly - Being cruel to be kind - The truth sets you free - Moral compass - Actual actions to become more confident - The Marathon Mindset Muscle - Build an updated feedback loop — 8-minute video; described as a major topic - "You have a high school feedback loop — I need to teach you how to rebuild it properly" - Comfort zone challenges (extended version of what's in the free tier)

Coming Soon Modules - Body language - Natural fitness (anti-steroid focus; creator says some 18-year-olds are being encouraged to take steroids online) - Becoming a better-looking man (creator says he has "changed his face massively" over the years)

The ONM Network and Member Community 10:03

- Approximately 150 high-level members already inside at time of filming
- Creator is onboarding them before opening to new members
- Members span multiple nationalities: American, Moroccan, French, British, Canadian, Australian, Hong Kong, Spanish, Guam
- Credentials of existing members include:
 - Harvard graduates
 - People with PhDs earning £250,000/year in 9-5 jobs
 - Pilots
 - Business owners
 - One member close to breaking a fitness world record
 - People who speak multiple languages and have traveled extensively
- Real footage shown of members working on laptops together
- Testimonials featured: Mika, Jovan, Aston (joined via a friend, had never watched creator's content), Tibo, Josh

ONM Assets: The Granada Boutique Resort 22:10

- Creator is currently based at this property — a boutique resort in Granada, Spain
- Members can stay 365 days per year
- Described as the MVP (minimum viable product) that proves the ONM concept

Feature	Detail
Outdoor gym	£25,000 value; being added to continuously
Outdoor pool	Heated
Sauna & hot tub	Planned addition

Feature	Detail
Cardio equipment	Planned addition
Sun loungers	Recently purchased
Cinema area	Behind the filming location; large TV, sound system
Terrace balconies	Two levels
Wi-Fi	Available throughout with extender upstairs
Log fireplace & barbecue	Included
Nearby airports	Granada and Malaga (Marbella ~close; Madrid ~3.5 hours)

- Location benefit: when it's 2°C in the UK in December, it's 18°C and sunny in Marbella
- Creator notes you can get 5-star hotels out of season in Marbella for ~£200/night
- Also owns a Thomas Inch dumbbell (78 kg) at the property — offering £1,000 to any member who can lift it (excluding Tinashi, who is ruled out for being too strong)

Barcelona FC VIP Seats 23:43

- ONM has secured 4 VIP seats in the VIP ring area of the new Barcelona FC stadium (Spotify Camp Nou renovation — still under construction at time of filming)
- Described as one of the best views in the stadium; situated to look directly down on Lamine Yamal's side
- Behind the seats is a full bar/food area with a 360° view of Barcelona city
- Covers all home games: La Liga, Champions League (including semi-finals), El Clásico
- First ONM feature that allows bringing a plus one — members can bring family, business clients, or a date
- The ONM logo will be on the seats inside what creator calls "the biggest stadium in Europe"
- Creator is considering leasing a 4-bedroom house in Barcelona for ~£2,000/month so members using the stadium have accommodation — saving them money

Future Expansion: Stage 3 — Global Members Clubs 25:58

- The long-term vision is to emulate Soho House and Aman Resorts — central city locations in major global cities
- Expansion roadmap:
 - Stage 1: Granada boutique resort (complete — MVP proven)
 - Stage 2: 12 trips/year, filming, building professionalism and infrastructure
 - Stage 3: Global physical members clubs
- First location: London — creator already shopping for the site; knows London well
 - Referenced property costs ~£300,000/month at the high end
- After London: New York, then Paris and others

- Target cities long-term: London, New York, Tokyo, Dubai (rooftop pool + spa mentioned as example)
- Strategic timing advantage:
 - Post-COVID office collapse + AI reducing office demand = commercial real estate falling in price
 - "If you stay in the market long enough, the world kind of helps you out"
- Planned features inside city locations:
 - Gyms, spas, rooftop pools, infinity pools
 - Dedicated content creation spaces
 - Private meeting rooms for hosting clients ("host a £5K client meeting here instead of Starbucks")
 - Attractive staff (creator explicitly mentions this as part of the service model)
 - Wi-Fi and dedicated spaces for remote workers on calls
- ONM logo will be visible inside Barcelona's stadium — framed as a major branding milestone

"You're going to host it at Starbucks? No. You've got a high-level client that wants to give you 5K. Host it inside here. Of course — we'll pay for the furniture, Wi-Fi, etc. Go there, use the facilities."

The Business/Investment Model 28:51

- Creator frames the £450/year as a collective investment, not just a product purchase
 - "Every 450 you put in, I put back into the business"
 - Revenue goes into infrastructure members will eventually use
 - Creator pays himself by borrowing against assets rather than taking profit — staff get paid first
 - "You don't really need to pay yourself when you own the company"
- Described as a syndicate model — members collectively funding shared infrastructure
 - "If you think I can self-fund London, New York, etc. — I've got money, but I'm not a gazillionaire"
- Creator's personal motivators: infrastructure, buildings, real-world companies, empires — not supercars or bonuses
- ONM Lifestyle tier pricing:
 - Currently cheap as the MVP phase
 - Will eventually cost ~£4,000/year (£10,000/year referenced as future high-end)
 - Paying £450 now locks in the current price forever
- Criticism of competing members clubs: "They're just a bunch of guys in a room talking about how much money they make — a glorified mastermind for one day at someone's house that you pay 10 grand for"

The Full ONM Pathway Summary 33:05

- The full system is described as a 5–10 year journey with a clear step-by-step blueprint
- Three-tier progression:
 - ONM Education (free Skool community)

- ONM 42-day challenge
- Theory → practical action
- Behavioral standards, comfort zone work, fitness, dating
- ONM Work (£450/year — locks in price forever)
 - 250-video / 30-hour course
 - Access to ~150-person high-level network
 - Business, mindset, life setup, relationships content
- ONM Lifestyle (future tier — price rising to ~£4K/year)
 - Physical locations globally
 - 12 trips/year
 - Granada resort access (365 days/year)
 - Barcelona VIP seats
 - Future: London, New York, Paris, Dubai clubs
- Creator's stated success metric: "If content actually works, you shouldn't need me forever. You should be able to just go and live your life."
- Call to action: join ONM Education for free (link in description or pinned comment)
- Creator explicitly says: if members don't eventually reach ONM Lifestyle, *"I messed up — it means my free content, my challenges, my course were all sh*t"
- Closes with a pitch for belief in oneself: "If you truly believe you're going to be successful one day, prove it. Invest. Be a man of your word."
