Habit 1: No Social Media for the First Hour 0:00

- Do not touch social media during the first hour after waking up
 - Protects your morning mindset from external noise and reactive thinking before you've set your own intentions

Habit 2: Same Wake-Up Time Every Day 0:00

- Wake up at the exact same time every single day, including weekends
 - Consistency on weekends is explicitly required — no "sleep-in" exceptions
 - Builds a reliable circadian rhythm and removes daily decision-making around sleep

Habit 3: Seven Days Without Snooze 0:00

- Go seven consecutive days without pressing the snooze button even once

- The streak restarts if you slip — zero tolerance
- Trains the habit of honoring a commitment you made to yourself the night before

Habit 4: One Hour of Deep Work Daily 0:00

- Dedicate one completely uninterrupted hour to deep work every day
 - "Uninterrupted" is the key qualifier — no notifications, no context-switching
 - Builds the cognitive muscle of sustained focus over time

Habit 5: 20 Minutes of Daily Solitude 0:00

- Sit alone for 20 minutes each day with zero input
 - No podcast, no music, no books, no distractions of any kind
 - Just you and your thoughts
 - Forces comfort with discomfort and develops self-awareness

Habit 6: Under 45 Minutes of Social Media Per Week 0:24

- Keep total social media screen time below 45 minutes per week
 - A dramatic reduction from the hours most people spend daily
 - Reclaims significant time and attention for higher-value activities

Habit 7: Clear Your 90-Day Avoidance List in One Day 0:24

- Make a list of every difficult thing you have been avoiding for the last 90 days
- Knock all of them out in a single day
 - The concentrated discomfort of doing them all at once breaks the avoidance pattern
 - Forces confrontation with procrastination in one decisive action

Habit 8: Accountability Partner with a Financial Penalty 0:24

- Give an accountability partner $100 every time you break one of your non-negotiables
 - The financial sting makes abstract commitments tangible and costly
 - Non-negotiables are personal rules you have already defined for yourself

Habit 9: One Full Week Focused on Your Life-Changing Project 0:24

- Block out one full week with no unnecessary plans
- Spend at least 4 hours a day during that week building the project that could change your life
 - Clearing the social calendar removes the #1 excuse for not making progress
 - The 4-hour minimum per day creates meaningful momentum in a short window

Habit 10: 90-Day Clean Living Challenge 0:46

- Go 90 days without:
 - Alcohol
 - Junk food
 - Cheat meals
 - Making any excuses
- Framed as the final and most difficult habit in the progression
- Combines physical discipline with mental accountability over an extended period

The hardest habit is the last: 90 days of zero alcohol, zero junk food, zero cheat meals, and zero excuses — a full-spectrum commitment that ties all the other habits together.
