Executive Summary

ZssBecker announced a major overhaul of HYROS with a new vibe-coded tracking app, plus a $20k contest, while also posting a blunt motivational callout urging followers to stop making excuses and take action.

So...I just killed my software HYROS... (+$20k contest)

And the team at @hyros_official and I are damn proud of it.

For the last year we optimized HYROS's tracking to be vibe coded with.

Today we released a FULL app powered by our data that you can add or build ANY tracking

The screenshot shows the HYROS Performance Report dashboard for a demo account. The dashboard includes a navigation bar with tabs for Performance Report, CRM / Leads, Funnel & Journey, Ad LTV, Scale Advisor, and Tracking Health. The Performance Report tab is active, showing a summary of key metrics for the period SEP 15 - SEP 21. The metrics are: COST ($30,752), REVENUE ($119,632), PROFIT ($88,880), ROAS (3.89), and SALES (858). Below the summary, there is a table with columns for NAME, CLICKS, and COST. The table lists various marketing campaigns and their performance.
