

Always trust your gut

Channel: Tim Luong · Published: Aug 05, 2026 · Watch: <https://www.youtube.com/shorts/aozSWFYFaRE> Source: full transcript

Executive Summary

Tim Luong shares a single hard-won business lesson: gut instinct has never led him wrong, and every major problem he faced was preceded by a warning feeling he should have acted on sooner.

Contents

-  Trust Your Gut in Business

Trust Your Gut in Business 0:00

- Tim's core claim: in every serious business problem he has faced, his gut instinct was the one thing that never led him astray
 - Framed as the single most reliable signal across all "insane issues" in his business experience
- The specific advice: the moment you feel a weird gut feeling or instinct about someone, you need to act on it immediately
 - Implication is that hesitating or ignoring that feeling leads to regret
- The transcript ends mid-sentence ("It's never been..."), suggesting the clip cuts off before the full thought is completed
 - The likely completion is that it has never been wrong — consistent with the opening statement