Executive Summary

ZssBecker blasts people who embrace a victim mentality and make excuses for their poor life outcomes, arguing that this mindset leads nowhere and ultimately results in a wasted life with no improvement or legacy.

Most spend their entire life clinging to the belief they are a "special" victim and that their lack of life results are not their fault.

Then their life never gets better. Then they get old. They die. Tiny loser funeral. The end.

Fuck off with your excuses. No one cares.
