Executive Summary

Brandon Carter demos three things he did with ChatGPT Astra — carousel creation, AI video editing, and a competitor ad dashboard — then announces a live training on monetizing online coaching with AI.

Contents

-  Demo 1: AI-Generated Social Media Carousel
-  Demo 2: AI Video Editing with Graphics & Music
-  Demo 3: Competitor Ad Dashboard
-  Live Training Announcement

Demo 1: AI-Generated Social Media Carousel 0:00

- First thing Carter tested with ChatGPT Astra was creating a social media carousel post
 - Process was simple: upload some photos and describe what you want it to say
 - Astra generated the finished carousel in approximately 3 minutes
- Positioned as a major time-saver for online coaches who need regular content

Demo 2: AI Video Editing with Graphics & Music 0:10

- After the carousel, Carter wondered if Astra could edit his YouTube videos
 - He uploaded raw footage and gave it a prompt
 - Astra added graphics and music automatically — no manual editing
- The output shown includes a clip where he introduces "21 things that if you implement will change your life" and references building "several multi" (implied multi-million dollar results)
- Entire edit was produced from a single prompt

Demo 3: Competitor Ad Dashboard 0:22

- Carter asked Astra to build a dashboard showing all of his competitors' running ads
 - Dashboard allows him to click on individual ads and view them directly
 - Astra provides a transcription of each competitor ad

- Astra then writes a custom version of the ad tailored for Carter's own use
- Framed as a competitive intelligence tool that previously would have required manual research

Live Training Announcement 0:46

- Carter announces a live training focused on using AI as an online trainer/coach
- Four stated topics the training will cover:
 - How to start making money as an online trainer using AI
 - How to create more content with AI
 - How to get more clients with AI
 - How to use AI to help train clients and deliver better results
