Habit 1: Eat the Same Foods Most Days 0:02

- Lean people simplify their diet by rotating a consistent set of foods
 - Reduces decision fatigue around meals
 - Makes it easier to stay on track without overthinking

🚫 Habit 2: Never Consume Liquid Calories 0:04

- Avoid calorie-containing drinks entirely
 - Sodas, juices, alcohol, and fancy coffee drinks are common culprits
 - Liquid calories are easy to overconsume and don't trigger satiety the way solid food does

Habit 3: Go for a Walk After Every Meal 0:05

- Make post-meal walks a consistent routine

- Aids digestion and helps manage blood sugar levels after eating
- Adds low-intensity activity throughout the day without requiring gym time

Habit 4: Keep Junk Food Out of Your House 0:07

- Control your environment so temptation isn't accessible
 - If junk food isn't in the house, you can't eat it impulsively
 - Environment design is more reliable than willpower alone

Habit 5: Work Out Even When You Travel 0:09

- Maintain training consistency regardless of location — delivered with emphasis ("punk")
 - Travel is one of the most common excuses people use to skip workouts
 - Staying lean year-round requires no extended breaks from exercise

Habit 6: Track Your Calories and Macros 0:11

- Actively monitor both total calorie intake and macronutrient breakdown
 - Tracking creates awareness and accountability around what you actually eat
 - Prevents the gradual overeating that leads to fat gain over time

Habit 7: Go to Sleep and Wake Up at the Same Time Every Day 0:14

- Maintain a fixed sleep schedule every day, not just weekdays
 - Consistent sleep timing regulates hormones that influence hunger and fat storage
 - Poor or irregular sleep undermines diet and training efforts

Habit 8: Drink at Least One Gallon of Water Per Day 0:17

- Minimum target: one gallon of water daily — Brandon personally drinks two gallons
 - Proper hydration supports metabolism, performance, and hunger regulation
 - Drinking water also helps displace liquid calorie consumption

Habit 9: Never Say "I'll Start Monday" 0:20

- Replace delayed starts with immediate action — "Start right now"
 - The "I'll start Monday" mindset is one of the biggest barriers to lasting leanness
 - People who stay lean year-round don't take arbitrary resets; they act in the moment

Bonus: Free Ripped Guide Offer 0:23

- Brandon offers a free guide covering exactly how to get ripped

- Includes a tailored diet plan and workout plan made for the individual
- How to get it: comment the word "rip" and he sends it directly to you
