Truth 1: Control Your Body Chemistry 1:30

- Brandon's central claim: every successful person he knows over 36 uses some form of performance-enhancing drug (PED)
 - He says this is nearly universally true among high-performers he knows personally, though they rarely admit it publicly
 - (Disclaimer repeated emphatically: consult a doctor before doing anything; this is for educational purposes only)

- The baseline requirement: PEDs only work if fundamentals are already solid
 - Proper nutrition, quality sleep, serious training must come first
 - If basics are broken, stimulants only mask deficiencies and bring you to
