

October 2, 2026

Channel: Tim Luong · Published: Oct 02, 2026 · Watch: <https://www.youtube.com/shorts/1BGVKjMU66U> Source: full transcript

Executive Summary

As AI grows capable of doing nearly anything, the most valuable human skill in 2026 is persuasion — convincing other people to act on your behalf, from raising capital to closing sales.

Contents

-  Persuasion as the #1 Skill in the AI Era
-  Real-World Applications of Persuasion

Persuasion as the #1 Skill in the AI Era 0:00

- The central claim: persuasion is the most valuable skill in 2026
 - In an era where AI can do almost anything for you, the one thing that rises in value is getting another human to do something for you
 - AI handles tasks, but human buy-in, trust, and commitment still require human-to-human influence
-