🎬 The Problem: Manual Video Editing 0:00

- A woman is shown editing videos the traditional, manual way
  - Brandon calls this editing "like a caveman" — slow and inefficient
- The core argument: there is no reason to edit manually when AI can do it with a single prompt

🤖 The AI-Powered Solution 0:05

- Either Claude or ChatGPT (desktop app) can handle video editing tasks via a single command
- The AI can replicate a wide variety of editing effects and styles
  - Examples shown include multiple distinct visual effects
  - Quality described as "much cooler" than what manual editing produces
- The same AI tools also handle publishing — uploading and posting to platforms on your behalf

🔧 Step-by-Step Setup 0:24

- Step 1 — Download the desktop app for ChatGPT or Claude
- Step 2 — Install three free GitHub repositories (specific repos not named in the transcript)
- Step 3 — Go to ElevenLabs, obtain an API key, and add it to Claude or ChatGPT
- Step 4 — Show the AI a few example videos whose editing style you want to replicate
- Step 5 — Drop in your raw footage and prompt the AI: "Edit it like this"

- Step 6 — The AI edits the video and uploads/posts it to platforms automatically

📈 Results: 1,000+ Posts in 30 Days 0:47

- Brandon claims to have published more than 1,000 pieces of content across all platforms in the past 30 days using this workflow
  - Volume is attributed entirely to the AI handling both editing and distribution

> Publishing 1,000+ pieces of content in 30 days by letting Claude or ChatGPT edit and post automatically.
