the opportunity isn't gone. you're just looking in the same places as everyone else.

Channel: Greg Lav · Published: Oct 27, 2026 · Watch: https://www.youtube.com/shorts/k6kXJv4Hmy8 Source: full transcript

📋 Executive Summary

An entrepreneur found untapped opportunity by starting on cruise ships — scaling to 150 vessels and controlling 10 containers of space — proving opportunity exists where others aren't looking.

📑 Contents

- 🚢 The Cruise Ship Opportunity
- 🏆 Key Takeaway

🚢 The Cruise Ship Opportunity 0:00

- The entrepreneur started his business aboard cruise ships
  - When asked about finding available space, he pushed back — there is plenty of space on 150 ships
- Current scale: 150 cruise ships carrying his product/presence
  - Controls roughly 10 containers of space across the fleet
- Carnival cruise line is not yet on board but described as "coming soon"
  - Suggests further significant growth still ahead
- Host/interviewer expressed genuine praise: "I'm really proud of you, man. That's amazing."

🏆 Key Takeaway

- The core insight mirrors the video's title: most people look for opportunity in the same crowded places
  - This entrepreneur went where others weren't — onto cruise ships — and found wide-open scale
- The clip is short and conversational; specific product/business type is not named in the transcript