-  Habit 3: Hit 1 Gram of Protein Per Pound of Bodyweight
-  Habit 4: Drink 1–2 Gallons of Water Daily & Cut Liquid Calories
-  Habit 5: Sleep At Least 7 Hours a Night
-  Free Tool: The RipRoadmap

Habit 1: Walk 20,000 Steps Per Day 0:00

- Target: 20,000 steps per day
 - The average person burns an extra 800–1,000 calories by hitting this number
 - Framed as a passive, low-effort way to create a significant calorie deficit without structured cardio

Habit 2: Track Your Calories 0:00

- Formula: bodyweight (lbs) × 10 = daily calorie ceiling — do not exceed this number
- Rationale: "If eating intuitively was working for you, it'd be working for you" — if you're not ripped, intuitive eating has already proven it doesn't work for you
- Method: simply log numbers in a phone app — Carter dismisses excuses by calling it "not difficult" and telling viewers to "stop being soft"

Habit 3: Hit 1 Gram of Protein Per Pound of Bodyweight 0:00

- Target: at least 1 g of protein per pound of bodyweight per day
- Purpose: helps preserve and maintain muscle mass while in a caloric deficit

Habit 4: Drink 1–2 Gallons of Water Daily & Cut Liquid Calories 0:22

- Water target: 1 to 2 gallons per day

- Additional rule: do not drink any calories — all beverages should be zero-calorie
 - Liquid calories are an easy source of hidden surplus that derails fat loss

Habit 5: Sleep At Least 7 Hours a Night 0:22

- Minimum: 7 hours of sleep per night
- Consequences of sleeping less than 7 hours:
 - Hormones go "all out of whack"
 - Fat loss slows down
 - Muscle loss increases

Free Tool: The RipRoadmap 0:44

- Tool name: RipRoadmap — described as free
- How it works:
 - Enter your height, weight, and age
 - Upload a photo of yourself
 - An AI analyzes the data and photo
 - Outputs: exact estimated body fat percentage + a personalized game plan to get in the best shape of your life
- How to access: comment "road map" on the video and Carter sends it directly to you
