

Six reasons your business is failing and exactly how to fix them today.

Channel: Brandon Carter · Published: Aug 20, 2026 · Watch: <https://www.youtube.com/shorts/IyGFL2AokkM> Source: full transcript

Executive Summary

Brandon Carter walks through six sequential business breakdowns — lead generation, sales calls, show-up rates, closing, payment consistency, and retention — and gives one concrete fix for each.

Contents

-  Problem 1: Not Getting Leads
-  Problem 2: Getting Leads But No Sales Calls
-  Problem 3: Booking Calls But People Aren't Showing Up
-  Problem 4: Taking Calls But Not Closing
-  Problem 5: Closing Clients But Cash Is Inconsistent
-  Problem 6: Clients Not Staying Long Term

Problem 1: Not Getting Leads 0:00

- The fix: Create a free guide to give away at the end of your videos
 - Acts as a lead magnet that converts viewers into contacts
 - Ties directly into content you are already producing

Problem 2: Getting Leads But No Sales Calls 0:05

- The fix: Dial in your niche
 - A vague or broad offer means leads don't self-identify as the right fit and don't book
 - Tightening the niche makes the call-to-action feel personally relevant

Problem 3: Booking Calls But People Aren't Showing Up 0:09

- The fix: Send a video text at two specific touchpoints
 - 24 hours before the call
 - The day of the call
- A personal video text raises perceived accountability and connection, making no-shows less likely

Problem 4: Taking Calls But Not Closing 0:14

- The fix: Review every sales call daily — treat it like an athlete reviewing game tape
 - Watch or listen back to each call
 - Identify specifically what you did wrong
 - Identify how you can improve on that point
- Consistent self-review compounds skill over time the same way athletic film study sharpens performance

Problem 5: Closing Clients But Cash Is Inconsistent 0=19

- The fix: Set up automatic payments
 - Manual or informal payment methods (e.g., Cash App) create gaps and delays in revenue

