Executive Summary

ZssBecker argues that constant access to smartphones, smartwatches, and social media is causing mental harm, urging people to ditch their devices entirely rather than staying perpetually connected.

You don't need a bigger Iphone screen in your pocket.

You don't need a screen on your wrist.

You don't need access to your DMs, sleep score and Instagram at all times.

You need to lock all this shit in a drawer forever and stop giving your self perma-psychosis you nutjob. <https://x.com/ZssBecker/status/2098473475526500836/photo/1>
